Chelsea Field open ended interview:

Interviewer questions in exact order – panned hard right

First and foremost thanks for coming in – it's nice to meet new artists... especially when they're pretty.

Can you give us a short Chelsea Field background

You said your dad was doing a project in Nashville... what kind of project

And your first job was working for your dad correct

How do you sell construction door to door – if there's a door already there do they really need you

You mentioned voice lessons... what's that's all about

What was your first paid singing gig

You've been here 5 years now – what have you been doing during that time that has brought you to this point... you're a songwriter too right?

What is that track you're talking about

The name Trey Bruce sounds familiar – how might we know him

How did you guys get together

The journey you've taken thus far from moving here, writing songs, to this point – having you're first single... is there anything that has taken you by surprise

Is the album finished

Does the album have a title yet

The debut single is called things I should have said. Some of our listeners may have already seen the video – tell us a little about that

What's her name

Tell me about the single itself – did you write this one

Honing your stage show – and referring to the live performance – do you like the big shows or the small intimate performances

Any fun road stories – or something you walked away with you'll remember for the rest of your life

How do we keep up with you – there's a web site right

What kind of dogs do you have

Did they take lessons – are they on key

Chelsea thanks for taking time out of your busy schedule and visiting with us – and we can look forward to the whole album when
